IN DEDICATION

ACTIVE MEMBERS OF WEBBER'S 20 YEAR CLUB

The journalism class of 1959-60 respectfully dedicates this yearbook to the active members of Webber's 20 Year Club which is composed of Webberites that have served Webber faithfully for 20 or more continuous years.

They are: (Standing, left to right) Miss Lillian Buckby, elementary teacher; Mrs. Charles O'Connor, past president and member of the PTA; Mrs. Mabel DeFere, elementary and junior high teacher; Miss Irene Ridge, junior high teacher and English department chairman; and Mr. Henry Holland, junior high teacher and social studies department chairman.

(Seated, left to right): Miss Marie Barth, junior high teacher and mathematics department chairman; Mr. W. S. "Mac" McMullen, junior high teacher and athletic director; Mr. Thomas "Scotty" Law, chief of maintenance crew; Miss Marie Landskroener, junior high teacher and librarian; and Mr. Cleo Watson, junior high industrial arts and social studies teacher.

Webber is proud of this illustrious group and has benefited greatly over the years from their many talents. Their great contributions either collectively or individually are far too numerous to mention in this dedication, but they are known by many thousands of former and present Webber students. The journalism students through this dedication in the 1959-60 Comet fondly salute this highly respected and capable group.

MR. DWIGHT W. STEVENS

Our friendly, popular, and capable chief-administrator kept things running very smoothly throughout the school year as he continued his very fine relationship with students, parents, and faculty members.

MRS. CHARLOTTE WALDORF

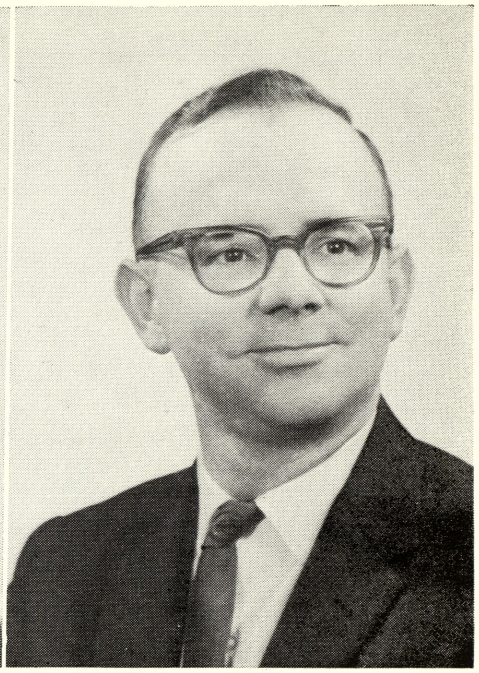
Webber's elementary program continued to be successful under the able and likeable guidance of our talented elementary principal.



MR. JAMES ALLEN

Our new assistant principal contributed greatly to our successful school year. His talent, amiability, and reliability were obvious throughout his first year in this difficult job.
